FEATURED PROGRAMS

Family Gardening Fun

March 1 at 6:30 pm

Learn how to make home gardening fun with Whittier Farms! Whittier Farms staff will speak about the different ways to involve children and grandchildren in the garden this summer to create an enjoyable and rewarding experience.

Chickens in the Garden

March 29 at 6 pm

Chickens are a wonderful addition to any garden; they provide eggs, wonderful fertilizer, and lots of company! Learn the ins and outs of housing, feeding, and tending chickens, and meet a couple of the ladies (hens). Speaker Gretel Anspach is the immediate past president of the Massachusetts Master Gardeners Association. She considers her horticultural interests to be eclectic, which is to say she knows a little about a lot and not much about anything.

You own a digital SLR Camera— now what?

April 2 and 9 from 10 am—noon

This two week course, taught by local photographer April Brown, is geared toward the beginner level photographer. Do you struggle to use your camera off of the 'automatic' settings? We will discuss the exposure triangle so that you have control over the camera in tricky lighting or in situations where you want to be more creative. Visit www.tinyleafdesigns.com to view April's portfolio. Space is limited and registration is required; please sign up online, in the library or over the phone.

Discovering New England Stone Walls

April 19 at 6:30 pm

Kevin Gardner's informal talk covers a few of the main topics of his book about New England stone walls, The Granite Kiss (Countryman Press), touching on history, technique, stylistic development, and aesthetics. He explains how and why New England came to acquire its thousands of miles of stone walls, the ways in which they and other dry stone structures were built, how their styles emerged and changed over time, and their significance to the famous New England landscape. There is always a generous question-and-answer period, during which listeners are encouraged to bring up specific problems or projects on their own properties.

Still Life Workshop with Greg Maichack

May 18 from 6-8 pm

Stunning Still Lifes, a hands-on pastel workshop for adults with all materials included. Students will learn still life concepts of the Masters, and utilize fun drawing techniques even sheer beginners will be successful at. Everyone will take home their work at the end of the night!

Space is limited and registration is required; please sign up online, in the library or over the phone.

This program is supported in part by a grant from the Sutton Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.
